finalized a settlement of 700 million in a lawsuit charging the pharmaceutical company of failing to disclose health risks in zyprexa labeling.

he also threw wide to second base on a play that was scored an infield single in the second, but he snared a backhander behind the bag and made a strong throw for the final out of the third.

treatments? the kind of mind-body and herbal treatments that once laid on the fringe of medicine now

"this (monitor) is a way to make sure both ends of the spectrum are protected."